DeVries receives IREM Certified Property Manager (CPM) Designation

Pensacola, FL –Thursday, December 3rd 2015–

NAI Pensacola is pleased to announce Logan DeVries has received the Certified Property Manager (CPM) designation through the Institute of Real Estate Management (IREM). “By earning the Certified Property Manager designation, Logan has shown his commitment to the property management profession,” DeeDee Davis, Vice President of Operations. “NAI Pensacola prides itself on offering the best managers available in the market and we do this by promoting the training IREM provides in their education program.”

“IREM sets a standard for best practices in real estate management. The benefit of the advanced analytical skills as a CPM will positively impact my centers.” “The IREM designation sets you apart from your competition. Owners are very impressed that you have completed the curriculum and know that you are held to a standard of ethics.” says DeVries.

DeVries joined NAI Pensacola in May of 2005 as a sales associate and real estate manager. With his new CPM certification, he will be promoted to senior real estate manager. Currently DeVries manages over 650,000 SF of office complexes, retail centers and governmental institutions. DeVries is a 2002 graduate of Florida State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Finance and Real Estate. The CPM designation is awarded to the top professionals in the industry. The designation is earned after candidates complete an extensive program based on a combination of education and experience. Candidates learn to analyze a property’s physical and fiscal performance and how to implement policies and procedures to enhance property values. Candidates also learn how to market, retain and improve tenant, resident and employee relations. They must also complete a rigorous ethics course and agree to abide by the CPM Code of Professional.
